GEORGE BURKE, Grayling, Mich.

COUNTY AGENTS COLUMN

The Grasshopper Control Campaign is about over and the returns are coming in from the farmers as to the results obtained. From the replies received to date an estimate of the savings in dollars from the use of the poison bait would approximate for Crawford County $14,460; for Roscommon County $5,500. Many interesting letters are being received by the County Agent, relating the experiences and are full of practical suggestions for the continued use of poison bait for grasshoppers and other pests susceptible to its use. The great feature about the whole thing is that at this time last year the farmers in these counties felt themselves utterly helpless against the forays of grasshoppers, while at this time even among those who have not used the poison or at least not used it properly, there is the conviction and knowledge that never again can grasshoppers at least in any degree of numbers hitherto seen in this locality, eat their way unmolested and undisturbed into the pocket books and profits of the farmers of Crawford and Roscommon Counties. What does this mean in the years to come in the way of stopping loss? A short reflection will convince any reasonable person, it means tens of thousands of dollars in saving for the future years.

Among the interesting letters received probably the following written by John Love, one of the most conservative, prosperous and widely known farmers in these counties for the past forty years, will prove of interest to those who read this column. The writer will testify that Mr. Love had grasshoppers as thick as the thickest in either county, and that he probably made the most thorough and persistent fight that was made in the two counties.

The letter follows:
W. F. Johnston, County Agent,
Roscommon, Mich.
Dear Sir:

As to my losses from grasshoppers will give figures as follows; in the year 1916 the hoppers began on my new seedling for the first time in a number of years; they destroyed out of 25 acres around the wild land about 3 acres, that not being bad.

In the spring of 1917 I seeded 24 acres with oats and wheat; they took all the clover from this seeding and began to work on the clover I had from the year before, so I had to cut my hay before it ought to have been cut. Then they began to eat out the crown so that I had only 8 acres of hay to cut from the 1916 seeding.

In 1918 I seeded 22 acres to clover with oats, and 5 acres with buckwheat, also 5 acres with spring rye. The hoppers took all the clover from the 32 acres; then they began to destroy the grain; my oats before the hoppers began to work upon them looked as tho they would thresh out 30 to 35 bushels per acre. In the rye they destroyed about one-half of the head and I only got 8 bushels per acre. All the hay I got that year was 5 loads from 8 acres of the 1916 seeding. They next flocked to my garden and cornfield. They ate off the silks and as far as they could on the ear, and fully destroyed one-quarter of the crop. I had 2 acres of garden—1/2 acre of carrots, 1/2 acre of onions, 1/2 acre of cabbage and the rest to bagas. They took all of the truck. When I sowed my rye and wheat in the fall—23 acres, I put in timothy and clover also, but the hoppers took out the clover just the same.

Now comes the 1919 crop. We had in wheat 5 acres; rye 188 acres; oats 18 acres; corn 12 acres; garden 2 acres and the blooming grasshoppers destroyed a thing on any of these crops. When they came along they stopped at the border of these fields and commenced to investigate and examine, and they found something that looked like (sawdust, molasses, and salt and poison.) They began to eat this mixture and it suited their appetite, so they made such hogs of themselves that they just laid down and died by the millions.

Now I will explain how I handled this dope. I took 8 bushels of sawdust and 9 pounds of poison, 1 quart of molasses and 1 quart of salt, mixed them thoroughly together, moistened it thoroughly with water, then it was ready to be sown. I sowed 1 bushel each night until I had sown around the 56 acres in crops, then the next week I did the same again. I did this for 5 weeks and by so doing I have got good crops as far as the hoppers are concerned. They have not destroyed anything for me this year. I used about 45 pounds of the poison the county made appropriation of $500 for and through the County Agent I was asked to try, and which I did as stated.

And furthermore allow me to say that this is the best thing the Board of supervisors ever did for the farmers of Crawford County. Come again and don't think the County officers need all the appropriations but give us a County Agent and stand back of him.
Yours,
John Love.

A FOREIGNER'S IMPRESSIONS FROM AN AMERICAN CROSS TRIP.

On the other hand we had climbed up nearly 4,000 feet. A cold bath and a hearty meal restored us and we could enjoy the wonderful view from the porch of the chalet over the green carpet of tree tops deep below us, far away we faintly saw a corner of McDonald lake and in the background like the big foaming waves of the ocean snow-covered mountain ranges rose one behind the other. The air was fresh and exhilarating, but a little cool in the night. All kinds of rodents, chipmunks, ground-hogs, etc., ran between our feet and on the big boulders sat the brown-white marmots whistling. Back of the chalet the mountains formed a semicircle, big snowdrifts lay everywhere and a little creek tumbled like a silver thread down the mountain side. The first I saw as I entered the chalet, was the big sign telling that the service belonged to the best families in America, that it would be courteous, etc., and we were asked for the same. In reality all the waitresses were teachers from different places in the states and the college boys.

I am not sure, that we could have it so at home. The feeling of a class mind and many of us are a little too much given to consider a waiter as an individual standing on a lower plane of the social order. We are a long way from a real democratic view. The young ladies at the chalet were pretty, well educated and we passed a pleasant evening at a campfire outside the chalet gossiping and admiring the landscape, which lay bathed in the beams of a full moon.

Next day we limbed in company with the young ladies, the mountain wall back of the chalet. The wall was almost perpendicular and the trail in places only a few inches wide but I had the feeling, that I had got the mountaineering foot and the climb of nearly 2000 feet appeared easy to me. The mountain slopes were in many places covered with pretty flowers—was sorry that I didn't know their names; and high up in the wall we discovered two beautiful little lakes, that couldn't be seen from below. Ice flakes were floating in the green blue water and around them were pretty flowers. We arrived at a place, where an iron ladder was fixed in the rocky wall, we climbed it and reached our goal, the edge of the mountain wall, from which we had a splendid view over an immense snow field, that sloped down to another from our view-point, invisible valley. Sperry Glacier was the name of the snow field. From where we were standing, we couldn't see the crevices but only some dark blue spots in the field, that we supposed to be ice. But more wonderful than the glacier was the mountain wall, from which we had a splendid view over an immense snow field, that sloped down to another from our view-point, invisible valley.

But more wonderful than the glacier was the mountain wall, from which we had a splendid view over an immense snow field, that sloped down to another from our view-point, invisible valley.

I stayed for some days in the chalet and was really sorry, when I had to leave it. One morning I got up and packed on my back and trotted away alone. My agreeable fellow traveler had left for McDonald lake. I followed a narrow trail, that was winding up a mountain side and reached after a tiring climb the edge of a wall and from there I had a view that would have given Gustave Dore material for his illustration of Dante's entry to Dante's hell. A dark oblong canyon without vegetation, in the bottom several thousand feet below me a dark little lake, on the steep almost perpendicular mountain walls here and there snowpots. Barren and threatening the mountains rose to snow covered peaks and tiny water falls ran like silver threads down the outlet to another canyon, and in the bottom of this, maybe a thousand or more feet under the level of the first canyon. I saw through a blue haze another dark lake. The scenery was more than great, it was awe inspiring and I almost felt a little scared, when I followed the trail down in the abyss. It was early in the morning and the sun's rays didn't reach to the bottom of the canyon, maybe this also contributed to my uneasy feeling. After a while I could look down in the depth, without getting dizzy and as the sun came up over the mountain tops and illuminated the landscape and the pretty flowers, which were growing in many places on the slopes, I felt better and trotted along the trail, which through many detours took me down to the level of the lake. The canyon was desolate, no human dwelling or human being could be seen, but what a lot of rodents. They jumped every where or sat quietly on the boulders looking at me. From the lake I had a heavy climb up a mountain wall to Gunsight Pass I don't know, how many thousand feet it was—maybe 2-3,000, but I felt them in my knees and my packback was more than heavy. In one place a waterfall tumbled down over the trail, it was not a big one but big enough to drench me and I tried to get through by jumping over some boulders. Naturally I fell, sprained my thumb and got soaked. My hand was very sore and I was happy, when at last I reached the summit of the pass and met with some roadmen, who painted my hand with iodine. It didn't look fine but took the pain away.

The summit of the pass formed a sharp ridge, a water-divide. A new great landscape opened itself for me. Deep deep down a lake, which got its nourishment through little creeks, (continued on last page.)

STEEL STRIKE IS STILL DEADLOCKED

SECOND WEEK OF BIG LABOR
STRUGGLE LEAVES RESULT IN DOUBT.

BOTH SIDES CLAIMING GAINS

Bethlehem Plant is Partly Crippled—
West Virginia Mill Forestalls
Strike By Shutting Down.

Pittsburg—Results of the great offensive and counter-offensive scheduled to usher in the second week of the steel strike, by means of which both capital and labor hoped to break the deadlock developed after the first few days remained in doubt this week. In the Pittsburgh and Chicago sectors—the strategic points on the industrial front—both sides made determined efforts to push forward, one with the hope of resuming full operation, the other of crippling more plants. The chief struggle, however, was waged for control in the mills of the Bethlehem Steel company, whose 40,000 employees had been commanded by union leaders to join the ranks of the strikers.

Here are the reports issued from rival headquarters dealing with the Bethlehem objective:
The employees reported to work Monday morning in such numbers as to provide for practically a full operation of all plants.—E. C. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel company. Charles M. Schwab's big plant at Bethlehem completely crippled.—William Z. Foster, secretary of the strikers' national committee.

Elsewhere results of the economic battle were equally obscured by conflicting claims. The independent plant of Jones & Laughlin company in Pittsburgh is "50 per cent out of action," according to Foster, but according to company officials, it is little affected. The Carnegie Steel company and other concerns in the crucial Pittsburgh salient claimed men were returning "in goodly numbers," while unionists heralded failure of the United States Steel corporation to "stamp out" their forces.

From Chicago came reports that the struggle for control in that center was being equally stubbornly contested, without apparent material gains for either side.

The Weirton Steel company suspended operations at its plant in Clarksburg, W. Va., posting notices that the mills would be closed indefinitely for repairs. This shut-down was characterized by labor leaders as a lockout.

FARMER BRUTALLY KILLS WIFE

Calmly Waits Until Morning to Get Permit For Burial.

Detroit—"I killed my wife last night; I want to get a permit so I can go back and bury her tomorrow."

Martin Bobrowski, 53 years old, farmer and blacksmith on a lonesome place in the southwest part of Sumpter township, entered the prosecuting attorney's office Monday noon, Sept. 29 and made the announcement to Assistant Prosecutor Joseph A. Popiel as calmly as if he had slaughtered a sheep.

Sunday evening, Bobrowski, who, according to his children, had been acting strangely for two days, made a demand on his wife, Anna, for $300 she had obtained from the sale of produce and stock. When she refused, he seized a light stove poker, and drove the woman into the yard, striking her on the head and face, while she struggled with him, screaming for help that was half a mile out of hearing.

The four children, Theodore, a husky boy of 17, but cowed by his father; Ceila, 15; Dewey, 13, and Frank, 9; ran panic-stricken into the fields.

Around and around the lonely yard, the man chased the woman, slashing at her with the iron rod until her face was a mass of raw flesh. When she finally sank down, he placed ropes around her hands and feet and dragged her into the house.

He washed the bruised body, placed the woman's best green dress on it, stretched it on the floor in a reposeful condition with the hands crossed over the breast, and remained with it until early in the morning. Then he called for his son to drive him eight miles to Belleville and took the train to Detroit, announcing that he would be back in the afternoon and that there would be a funeral the next day.

AGED LADY SUCCUMBS TO ILL- NESS.

Mrs. Lovely Had Been Resident of Grayling For Past Thirty Years.

Each year sees many of our older residents leaving for that Land beyond, from where no traveler returns. This time death has called Mrs. Phoebe Lovely, wife of the late Peter Lovely, Sr., who passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. David White at 2:20 o'clock Sunday morning. Mrs. Lovely, who was 81 years old had been ailing since early in the spring and a week previous to her death was stricken with paralysis. Two attacks followed the first one and made her completely helpless. During her illness nine of 15 children, of whom she was the mother, have been constantly at her bedside and were untiring in their efforts to afford her every comfort. They all reside in Grayling and are: Mrs. David LaMotte, Mrs. David White, Mrs. Simon Sivrais, Miss Marie Lovely, Jerry, Isaac, Paul, Peter, David and Oliver Lovely. Besides these 38 grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren survive the deceased.

Phoebe Taylor was born near Montreal, Canada, September 29, 1838. On September 8, 1856 at St. Andre, Canada, she was united in marriage to Peter Lovely. On leaving Canada the family settled in Bay City from which place they came to Grayling thirty years ago. Mr. Lovely died February 11, 1917, and since that time Mrs. Lovely has made her home amongst her children, by whom she was very much loved.

The funeral of the deceased was held Tuesday morning at 9:00 o'clock at St. Mary's church. Mrs. Lovely had been one of the oldest members of this parish and in her younger life had taken active part in all its affairs. Rev. Fr. J. J. Riess conducted the services and delivered a very impressive sermon, giving a brief sketch of the life of this good lady. There was a large congregation of relatives and friends in attendance to pay their last respects. Interment was in Elmwood cemetery.

THE SEASON'S MARKS.

The hurrying, running, frantic leaves mark the Autumn and pronounce the coming of winter. The donning of overcoats; the disappearance of hats of straw; the sight of golden pumpkins and the coming of the honey jars—they all mark the fall. The Summer is gone and we are hard by the settling down for the months shut in.

But there is another mark—the coming back of the children old and young to the Sunday School and the church service. What folks miss when they have no such mark in their lives they cannot be told for they do not listen to such prattle. Michelson Memorial church is a finished building this Fall and we are ready for the home coming of all the people. The new year is before us and we must be the losers if we do not get some square meals at this temple of worship and temple of life.

Next Sunday! Your Program! Get up early enough, eat breakfast, don the Sunday clothes, take the children by the hand and come to church. A fine program and a warm welcome await you at the Michelson Memorial church. Next Sunday the pastor preaches in the morning and at eight o'clock in the evening Dr. McAllister lectures. He is an orator of note traveling in the interests of the Anti-Saloon League.

C. E. Doty, Pastor.

STEEL STRIKERS ASK ARBITRATION

HAVE EXPRESSED WILLINGNESS TO END WALKOUT IF GARY
WILL MEET COMMITTEE.

U. S. STEEL HEAD DECLINES

Says "Moral Principles" Involved
Make It Impossible—Number of Men Out Estimated At 340,000.

Washington—Indications, after a week of the great steel strike, pointed to a prolonged struggle for following a statement by John Fitzpatrick, director-general of the strike, that the walkout could be ended immediately if the United States Steel corporation would agree to arbitrate. Elbert H. Gary, director of the corporation, gave it as his personal opinion that, because of "moral principles" involved in the struggle, the directors could not deal with the union labor leaders.

A similar stand was taken by E. G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel Co. Appearing as labor's first witness in the senate's investigation of the steel strike, John Fitzpatrick, Chicago, chairman of the strikers' committee, declared that an agreement by the United States Steel corporation to arbitrate differences with its employees would result in an immediate end of the walkout, which, he said, now affects 340,000 men.

"We aren't fighting for money," insisted the strike leader, and he talked of babies and sunlight and happiness and of state troopers riding down crowds of men and women. He said the men wanted to break the basic 12-hour day that deprived them of all that made life sweet.

Judge E. H. Gary was expected to appear before the senate investigating committee, October 1.

Lake Unions Vote Strike.

Buffalo, N. Y.—Three unions of the Great Lakes steamship workers last week voted unanimously to empower their respective executive committees to call a strike in sympathy with the steel and iron workers. The unions involved are the Marine Firemen, Oilers, Water Tenders and Coal Passers, the Marine Cooks and Stewards and the Seamen. Their combined membership, it is said, is approximately 18,000.

STEEL MARGATE REFUSED OFFER OF ARBITRATION

JUDGE E. H. GARY.

Judge Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, who refused to accept Leader Fitzpatrick's offer for arbitration to settle the steel strike.

William B. Rubin, counsel for the strikers, says the union will institute an "inquisitorial proceeding" to call Judge Gary and "Mr. Morgan" to tell "how, when and where they acquired their steel corporation holding" and also to testify regarding the "legality of the corporation and its management."

Mr. Gary was cited to appear before the Senate Labor committee Wednesday.

NEGRO LYNCHED BY OMAHA MOB

Rioters Fire Courthouse in Effort to Omaha—William Brown, Negro, alleged to have assaulted a white girl, was dragged from the county jail at 11 o'clock Sunday night, Sept. 28 and hanged to an electric light pole, following a struggle of nine hours by a mob to wrest him from the sheriff. Sheriff Michael Clark and his deputies held the fort in the top story of the court house, where is located the jail, with 100 prisoners, until the building became a seething mass of flames, and he was forced to submit.

During the rioting a large number of Negroes were badly beaten on the streets. Some were seriously injured.

MINE OWNERS READY TO FIGHT

Workers Demand 60 Per Cent Raise,
6 Hour Day, 5 Day Week.

Buffalo.—The first response of the soft coal operators to the demands of the United Mine Workers of America for a new wage scale, effective November 1, with the alternative of a general strike on that date, is based on the argument that the present Washington wage agreements run for the duration of the war, or until April 1, 1920. If the war is not ended by that time, and that there is, therefore, no reason to put a new scale into effect November 1.

The coal operators, in convention here say they cannot meet the general demands for the 60 per cent increase, six-hour day, five-day week and other conditions formulated at the Cleveland convention of the mine workers.

The d'Annunzio forces at Fiume are said to have extended their lines back of the city to include high ground strategically necessary for the defense of the city.

The political situation in Italy apparently is near a crisis, according to report, the advocates of the annexation of Fiume including some of the more powerful elements.

Considerable Cut in Pershing's Forces

Washington—Gen. Pershing will have around him in his new headquarters in Washington only a fraction of the great staff which comprised the American grand headquarters at Chaumont during the war. Twenty-five officers, 45 clerks and 35 soldiers comprise the general's forces. So far as communication with the War Department is concerned he might as well still be in France. He will use orders the same as in Europe.

Originally it was planned that he visit Detroit October 8.

Jail Wasn't Big Enough.

White Plains.—Charged with having passed a worthless check for $100, Emory Titman, 608 pounds large, the fraction of the great staff which comprised the American grand headquarters at Chaumont during the war. Twenty-five officers, 45 clerks and 35 soldiers comprise the general's forces. So far as communication with the War Department is concerned he might as well still be in France. He will use orders the same as in Europe.

Harvard Alumni Begin Big Drive.

Detroit.—Harvard endowment fund workers who will attempt to raise Michigan's share of the $16,000,000 endowment sought to increase pay of university teachers not to perfect plans for soliciting contributions from every man in the state who ever attended any department of the university. Every man listed will be personally visited and asked to pledge a subscription, payment of which will extend over a five-year period. Many pledges already have been received.

ENGLAND TIED UP BY RAIL STRIKE

INDUSTRIAL PARALYSIS LOOMS
AS RESULT OF WALKOUT OF RAILROAD MEN.

600,000 WORKERS INVOLVED

Organized Labor Testing Strength in First Blow At Government—
Food Situation Serious.

London.—The strike of railwaymen, involving 600,000 workers, which was called September 27, has brought Great Britain to an almost complete standstill.

Premier Lloyd George terms it "an anarchist conspiracy." In stating the position of the government, he declared that the state would fight labor's blow with all the resources at its disposal. The premier appealed to the people for their support.

England, but especially London, faces a food crisis. The fish porters at Billingsgate have taken the lead among the food strikers. They went out in sympathy, refusing to load fishing barges.

Stoppage of the entire railway system opened the first battle in English history directly between the government and organized labor. Both sides were highly organized and were preparing for a finish fight.

The government's first precautions were to prepare against starvation. The Food Ministry sprung a surprise when it revealed that it had large food stores in London, which, it was estimated, are sufficient to supply the city for six weeks. Stocks in other parts of the kingdom will enable Britain to subsist for at least eight weeks.

Motor lorries, stationed in all parts of the country, began immediately operating between the sea ports and food depots in the inland cities. The difficulty of milk distribution offered the worst problem, but an attempt is being made to operate a few trains for this purpose and it was believed the nation's babies will be spared any suffering.

The government has established a virtual food dictatorship, endowed with almost limitless powers. The navy will be used to help feed the country—the first time in history the sea forces have been called to serve in such a capacity.

The strike decision followed failure of desperate attempts at adjustment in conferences between Premier Lloyd George, Minister of Transport Geddes and the railway men.

WILSON'S ILLNESS NOT SERIOUS

Absolute Rest Ordered By Physician—
Speaking Tour Ended.

Washington.—President Wilson arrived here Sunday, September 28, cutting short his proposed long speaking trip.

All of Mr. Wilson's engagements for the near future have been canceled, and his physician, Admiral Grayson, has insisted upon a real vacation.

After a run of nearly 10,000 miles, the presidential special reached Washington at 11:45 o'clock Sunday morning.

The President's illness, although brought to a head by his exertion on his speaking tour, is ascribed by Dr. Grayson in large part to the attack of influenza from which Mr. Wilson suffered last April in Paris. On that occasion he was confined to bed for several days but continued his conferences with the other members of the "Big Four" at his bedside.

RAILMEN AND U. S. AGREE ON PAY

Agreement Reported to Include Wage Scale and 8 Hour Day.

Washington.—Representatives of affiliated unions comprising the railroad shopmen are reported to have reached a general understanding with the railroad administration covering wages and working conditions, to remain in effect while the government retains control of the lines.

More than 600,000 railway employees are included in the group of unions known as the railroad shop men. According to meagre statements obtained from various sources, the contemplated agreement includes a union wage scale for each trade or craft involved, the basic 8-hour day, time and a half for overtime, and many other detailed provisions, all to be incorporated in uniform national contracts which would terminate automatically when the roads were handed back to private operation.

$300,000 in "Ads" to Boost Navy.

Washington.—Three hundred thousand dollars is to be spent by Uncle Sam in a campaign ending November 6 in an intensive publicity effort to gain recruits for the United States navy, and most of the money will be used for newspaper advertising. The intention is to take space in every newspaper in the country having a circulation of more than 1,000. At a meeting in Board of Commerce building, Otis Morse was appointed chairman for the Detroit district.

Britain Not Likely to Tax U. S. Autos.

London.—Sir Auckland G. Geddes, minister for national service and reconstruction, gave no hope that a tariff would be imposed upon American motor cars when questioned by a deputation of 31 manufacturers who called at the board of trade. He declared that for some time the British "had little fear of American competition, as existing duties, the cost of private cars, freight, packing and insurance and the loss in international exchange give ample protection."

"Just Joy Riding" Say Women.

London.—Women dressed in the uniform of the Waacs (Women's Auxiliary Army Corps), the organization which proved of such value during the war, are proving the worst automobile thieves with which Scotland Yard has to deal, according to an inspector in charge of the chase. They frequently work in couples, and when caught in the act smile archly at the owner of the car with the remark, "We were just off for a short joy ride." As a rule they are allowed to go.

London.—A special correspondent to one of the London dailies sings the praises of a Mrs. Van Wyk, in the Transvaal, who has just buried her sixth husband. She lives with all her 60 children, and the number of her grandchildren is 270. Mrs. Van Wyk is 68 years old and enjoys perfect health. Only half of the children are her own, the other 25 being those of her various husbands. All, however, are treated alike with touching motherly love, says the correspondent.

GOT ANY POTATOES TO SELL?

Dover, O., Sept. 27-19.
Editor Grayling Newspaper,
Dear Editor:—Please find enclosed five two-cent stamps for which please send me a few issues of your paper. My purpose is in finding what the potato market is in this region. We have already disposed of a car of Wisconsin potatoes but believe potatoes from your region would give better satisfaction.
Perhaps you could show this letter to some big farmer who raises enough of them for carload lots. My idea is to get away from so many of the mid-dlemen's profits. What I mean is pay the farmer a little more than the middleman would pay, but by buying them direct from the farmer, thus save a little for ourselves. Of course if you can find none such you would do me a favor to hand this to some dealer in your town who handles potatoes in carload lots.
Are potatoes fully matured there now, and are the potatoes being dug now? The potatoes above referred to I want is the No. 1 Round white thanking you in advance for the desired information. I am yours respectfully,
Martin Diefenbaugh, 10th St.

SARAJEVO WELL FED

Stores Fully Stocked With All Kinds of Supplies.

Bosnian City, Where Ferdinand Was Slain, Not Suffering for Provisions.

Sarajevo, Bosnia.—Sarajevo, scene of the assassination of Archduke Ferdinand of Austria, suffered less from the war than many other cities of the Balkans. As compared with Belgrade it is a city of luxury and plenty. The cafes have all the food that one cares
to buy, the stores are well stocked,
and the Jewish and Turkish vendors of souvenirs still do a flourishing business.

The service at hotels and restaurants is exceedingly bad, but that is generally true in south Europe, partly because most of the waiters and other employees during their four years at war acquired sloppy habits and careless ways and the spirit of "I don't care." It is exceedingly difficult, from Athens to Belgrade, to find a waiter who will exert himself to please.

One cannot say, truthfully, whether or not the people of Sarajevo are content with the new Jugo-Slavo government at Belgrade. Whatever dissatisfaction may exist, however, is well guarded. In concert halls and elsewhere are posters which say, "Speak Serbian." The formerly official German language is now superseded in all official publications by Croat (Latin alphabet) and Serbian (Cyrillic). Programs and menus are printed on two sides in the two tongues. All official statements are to the effect that there is little dissatisfaction with the Jugo-Slavo state as now organized.

There are a number of Americans at Sarajevo engaged in the affairs of the American Red Cross and the American relief administration. These organizations are jointly occupied in the child-feeding program of the United States, under direction of Maj. F. C.
Thwaites of Milwaukee.

In Sarajevo 3,000 school children and orphans are given a ration of chocolate and roll daily. The mothers of the city are similarly blessed by Uncle Sam's agents.

WHOLE NATION TO HONOR MEMORY OF ROOSEVELT

WILL CONTRIBUTE MONUMENT FUNDS THROUGHOUT UNITED STATES AND ITS POSSESSIONS.

OCTOBER 20-27 DATE SET

Michigan Organizes to Raise $200,000 Share of $5,000,000 National Quota; Every Citizen Will Be Given Opportunity to Participate.

Perpetuation of the memory of Theodore Roosevelt, the man and the American, is the purpose of a campaign which, during the week of Oct.
20 to 27, will raise a fund of $5,000,000
in the United States and its possessions.

The plans of the national committee in charge, headed by Col. William Boyce Thompson, call for a suitable monument in Washington and the establishment of a national park at Oyster Bay, Long Island, which, it is hoped, will include Sagamore Hill, the home of Col. Roosevelt, to be preserved like Mount Vernon and the Abraham Lincoln home at Springfield, Ill.

Michigan is to have a prominent part in the movement, which is already under way throughout the whole country and in Cuba, Panama, Hawaii, Alaska and the Philippine Islands.
The state's share of the quota has been set at $200,000 and an organization is now being formed to conduct an active campaign in every county.

The state organization is headed by Paul H. King, who was appointed chairman for Michigan by the national association. He is being aided by the following committee of prominent state people: Col. Charles B. Warren,
chairman of the executive committee;
Gustavus D. Pope, vice chairman, Detroit; Harry O. Turner, secretary, Detroit; Thomas P. Phillips, director of publicity, Detroit; Russell A. Alger, Detroit; Clarence L. Ayres, Detroit;
John W. Blodgett, Grand Rapids; Dr.
F. P. Bohn, Newberry; David A.
Brown, Detroit; Fred W. Casta-
nor, Detroit; M. J. Cavanaugh;
Ann Arbor; Frank Cody, Detroit;
Gerrit J. Diekmann, Holland; Frank D.
Eaman, Detroit; Woodbridge N.
Ferris, Big Rapids; Rt. Rev. Michael
J. Gallagher, Detroit; P. J. M. Hally, Detroit; Mrs. Rena L. Hamilton, Detroit; Col. Frank J. Hecker, Detroit;
Thomas E. Johnson, Lansing; William
Livingstone, Detroit; Mark T. McKee,
Detroit; Alfred J. Murphy, Detroit;
Mrs. Truman H. Newberry, Detroit;
Charles A. Nichols, Detroit; Patrick
O'Brien, Houghton; Chase S. Osborn,
Sault Ste. Marie; Thomas W. Payne,
Detroit; Rev. M. S. Rice, Detroit; J.
H. Rice, Houghton; Mrs. Abby Beecher
Roberts, Marquette; Mrs. Huntley Russell, Grand Rapids; Albert E. Sleeper, Bad Axe; William Alden Smith, Grand Rapids; Otto E. Sovereign, Bay City;
Mark W. Stevens, Flint; Mrs. Ethel
Ridgely Voroe, Grosse Ile; Lt. Col.
George B. Waldo, Detroit; L. Whitney
Watkins, Manchester; Miss Bina M.
West, Port Huron; N. C. Wright, Detroit; Carl Young, Muskegon.

Chairman King has already appointed a chairman in each county and these leaders are naming men and women workers in every city, village and township, to carry the message of the campaign to all the people.

Gov. Sleeper has issued a proclamation calling the attention of citizens to the movement and urging universal co-operation. Thomas E. Johnson,
superintendent of public instruction,
has communicated with school commissioners and superintendents of schools, teachers and pupils, asking for their wholehearted support. The Michigan house of representatives, at the last session of the legislature, adopted a resolution calling on the superintendent to place a picture of Col. Roosevelt in each schoolroom in the state and Mr. Johnson is now making the distribution and suggesting that the pictures be dedicated,
with appropriate exercises, on Roosevelt's birthday, Oct. 27. Students in the university and in all state colleges are being asked to take an active part in the campaign.

The work of the intensive campaign has been divided so that special efforts may be made by large civic groups of citizens. The following days have been set apart:
Sunday, Oct. 10, Church Day, with

LEADERS OF EVERY PARTY ASSO-CIATED IN NON-PARTISAN OR-GANIZATION TO HONOR AMERICANISM.

PROMINENT PEOPLE ACTIVE

Dominant Figures of Every Political Affiliation Lend Their Aid to Plans for Monument to Great American.

One of the pleasing features of the campaign to provide funds for a monument and fitting memorial to Theodore Roosevelt is the fact that the movement is non-partisan.

In the long list of names of the various state committees now interested in the work of obtaining such funds, as well as in the list of the national executive committee, appear the names of many of the most prominent Democrats in the United States, as well as the names of Republicans and men prominent in other walks of life aside from politics.

Leading men throughout the country, regardless of political or personal views, responded instantly to the call for leaders when the plan was mentioned, and the movement
since has grown to such an extent there remains but the one thought—that of making certain the success of the plan. A glance down the list of Roosevelt Memorial Association members discloses the following men
prominent in Democratic circles:

Thomas F. Smith, a member of the national committee, Tammany secretary and congressman; Alton B. Parker, former chief justice of the Court of Appeals, who was the Democratic presidential candidate against Col.
Roosevelt in 1904; Hon. Franklin K.
Lane, Secretary of the Interior; Robert Adamson, former secretary to Mayor Gaynor of New York City and former fire commissioner of the city of New York; Thomas L. Chadbourne, former University of Michigan football star, now a prominent New York lawyer; George Harvey, editor of the New American Review and Harvey's
Weekly; Congressman James A.
Gallivan, of Massachusetts; Theodore Francis Green and Richard B. Comstock, both of Providence, R.
I.; Hon. Samuel M. Ralston, former governor of Indiana; Thomas Taggart, chairman of the Democratic national campaign in 1904,
who has accepted the honorary chairmanship for Indiana; Hon. George Turner of Spokane, Wash., formerly
United States senator; Senator George E. Chamberlain, of Oregon, who is a member of the National Committee; Luke E. Wright, former governor-general of the Philippines; former Gov. Luke Lea, of Nashville, Tenn., colonel in the American Expeditionary Forces; the late John Mitchell, noted labor leader and member of the New York State Industrial Commission, and John M. Parker, of Louisiana, a member of the National Committee.

READY FOR ROOSEVELT DRIVE

Leaders, At Detroit Meeting, Enthusiastic for Work for Memorial Fund.

An oversubscription of the $200,000 quota assigned to Michigan in the campaign to raise a $5,000,000 fund for suitable memorials to the late Theodore Roosevelt was the pledge made by county chairmen, members of the executive committee and other workers representing every section of the state at the first meeting of the organization leaders in Detroit, Thursday, Sept. 5. There was a determined enthusiasm displayed for what one speaker characterized as "the worth-est recognition for a great American that America has ever undertaken."

Col. Chas. B. Warren, of Detroit,
chairman of the executive committee,
presided. Opening addresses were delivered by Col. Raymond Robins, of Chicago, a close personal friend of Mr.
Roosevelt, William Franklin Edwards,
of New York, regional director and representative of the National association, and Paul H. King chairman for Michigan.

While the campaign to obtain funds
for permanent memorials to the late Theodore Roosevelt is being waged throughout every state in the Union, similar activities will be in evidence in the colonial and peninsular possessions of United States.

To The Boys and Girls of Michigan:

Lansing, Michigan, Sept. 25, 1919.

October 27 is the birthday of the late Colonel Theodore Roosevelt.
Colonel Roosevelt, for nearly eight years our president, was, during the greater part of his life-time, our most valued public leader. He was known as the "typical American". He was fearless in his advance of what he believed to be right and in his attack upon that which he held to be wrong. His courage, his integrity, and his tireless energy made him our most popular national hero. Probably nothing expressed his philosophy of life more clearly than this quotation,
"In sport, in life, as in a football game the principle to follow is: Hit the line hard; don't foul, don't shirk, but hit the line hard!"
His picture will be dedicated on his birthday and if, as you look at the likeness of that strong, energetic face, you will vow that you will be good Americans, live clean, strong, true lives and that you will fight the battle for purity and honesty in public life as he fought it,
I believe you will please him more than you could in any other way.

Cordially yours,

T. E. JOHNSON,
Superintendent of Public Instruction.

TOLD IN GRAYLING.

A Resident Known to All Our Readers Relates an Experience.

Readers of the Avalanche have been told again and again of the merits of that reliable, time-proved kidney remedy—Doan's Kidney Pills.
The experiences told are not those of unknown persons, living far away.
The cases are Grayling cases, told by Grayling people.

W. A. McNeal, Chestnut St., says:
"Sometimes my kidneys have been out of order, causing the kidney secretions to pass too frequently.
Colds settle on my kidneys, also. I have used Doan's Kidney Pills, which I get at Olson's Drug Store, at these times, and they have always strengthened my kidneys and cured me of the attack."

A Great Remedy.

The merits of Chamberlain's Colic
and Diarrhoea remedy are well known and appreciated, but there is occasionally a man who had no acquaintance with them and should read the following by F. H. Dear, a hotel man at Dupuyer, Mont. "Four years ago I used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea remedy with such wonderful results that I have since recommended it to my friends." Adv.

An Old Fault Finder.

An irritable and fault finding disposition is often caused by indigestion.
A man with good digestion and bowels that act regularly is usually good natured. When troubled with indigestion or constipation take Chamberlain's tablets. They strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. They also cause a gentle movement of the bowels. Adv.

A Traveling Man's Experience.

You may learn something from the following by W. H. Ireland, a traveling salesman of Louisville, Ky. "In the summer of 1888 I had a severe attack of cholera morbus. I gave the hotel porter fifty cents and told him to buy me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea remedy and to take no substitute. I took a double dose of it according to the directions and went to sleep. At five o'clock the next morning I was called by my order and took a train for my next stopping place, a well man." Adv.

Ever think that some day you might need credit?

Some people go along paying cash for groceries
for years.

Then all of a sudden the time comes when they need credit—and they find it very hard to get, because they've always been classed as cash-customers.

That's why so many of our customers have charge accounts.

Not to put off payments indefinitely or to run up bills—but to establish their credit in the community.

In addition they find it mighty convenient not to be obliged to pay cash down for every little thing, to be afraid the delivery boy won't leave the things unless he gets his money.

Of course, charge accounts constitute only one of the many services we extend to our customers.

We feel it our duty to study the market and test
the food products as they are introduced.

That's how we chose Ryzon—from a personal test! We found we used less, that we could mix muffins the night before and bake them the next day; in fact, we found Ryzon to be economical and thoroughly dependable.

It costs 40c per pound, and, by the way, have you a Ryzon Baking Book? This book contains the best recipes of 10,000 women—it costs 30c and is worth a great deal more.

Hon. Nelson Sharpe, who has been the judge of judicial circuit court for a long term of years, has been appointed by Governor Sleeper to the Supreme court to succeed the late Judge Osterander. In this appointment Crawford county, in common with the several other counties on this circuit, lose the judicial services of one in whom the people have had the most implicit confidence and who has held the highest esteem of the masses. Judge Sharpe is one of the most efficient jurists anywhere in the State; he is a strong leader in community work and, in spite of his very busy life, has taken time to consider courteously any request that has been made of him. He is broad minded, well informed and has every characteristic of a true gentleman, and we feel certain will not rank second in ability to any of the other members of the Supreme court. Judge Guy Smith of Clatsop, who will succeed Judge Sharpe is not entirely a stranger to many Grayling people and those who know him feel that the 34th judicial circuit is in good hands. Some of the friends of Geo. L. Alexander made an effort to get the appointment for him and had they been successful the circuit would have had for its judge one of the best informed lawyers within the district.

Seventeen men, former mill employees of the Embury-Martin Lumber Co., left on the noon train Tuesday for Grayling to start up the big mill that company recently purchased there. The logs in the pond here will be shipped there and cut up before the mill is dismantled and moved to this city. This will take until in November, and by that time everything will be in readiness here to set the mill up quickly. The men that left on Tuesday were: Peter Gardner, Ben Leske, Andrew Cynarski, William Lalonde, Frank Packard, Anthony Krawkuch, Cyril Laporte, Al Papor, Chas. Robarge, Victor Lionell, James Grubinski, Ben July, Jule Bertram, Frank Nelson, John Stewart, William Landon and Stanley Stenkowski. The party was looked after by Peter Gardner, who was master of ceremonies. Grayling will greatly profit by the addition of the many men the company will employ there for the next two months, and our city will be very glad when they can all return to their old jobs here but in the new mill—Cheboygan Democrat.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anstett have been in Detroit for several days, on account of the death of the latter's father. Mrs. Anstett had been in Detroit several days previous to his death. Mr. Ross of Indian River is taking Mr. Anstett's place in the Western Union Telegraph office, during his absence.

Frank Foreman arrived in Grayling Tuesday morning and spent the day greeting old friends. He is the last Crawford county boy to return from service. Together with James Cuthbertson he was discharged at Camp Dix, N. J. last week. He is looking fine and full of vigor and shows results of his army training.

Dr. George McKean of Detroit, a specialist in internal medicine was called to Grayling last week Friday for counsel with Dr. Keyport in the illness of Dr. S. N. Insley. The latter is in Mercy hospital. Although the physicians did not arrive at a definite conclusion as to Dr. Insley's illness, it is considered that the patient is in serious physical health.

Rev. Alfred E. Sorenson left Monday night for Des Moines, Iowa, after a couple of weeks' visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Sorenson and other relatives. After leaving Des Moines, Mr. Sorenson will tour a number of places in the west on a lecture trip. He was accompanied as far as Bay City by his brother Herluf Sorenson, who went on a business mission.

Mrs. Will J. Heric entertained very nicely at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Beulah Miller Friday evening of last week. Two unique guessing contests were much enjoyed. The dining room where light refreshments were served was decorated in blue and white. Above the table a blue and white umbrella hung, and blue and white crepe ribbons were stretched from same to the edges of the table on all sides. This held the gifts brought by the guests, and after lunch, the ribbon with which it was tied was loosened and let down before the guests. The whole affair was a complete but agreeable surprise to Miss Miller.

Sunday evening, Mrs. William Brownell of Riverview suffered a painful accident. She with her two sons had come to Grayling from Riverview on the "Speeder" to attend the movie show and had left the motor car standing on the tracks near the M. C. round house. After attending the show Mrs. Brownell and the boys went to cross the tracks in order to reach the car, and as the former was attempting to climb onto the same she fell into a pit. In falling she struck on an iron bar that was projecting upwards and in so doing broke her left leg near the knee. She was immediately taken to Mercy hospital where she is getting along as well as can be expected. Mrs. Brownell is the mother of Mrs. Adolph Peterson of this city.

The reviewing sessions of the State Tax commission in the several townships and village of Grayling, were well attended, and caused considerable interest among the tax-payers. In each of the meetings O. F. Barnes a member of the commission, opened with an address on the problems of taxation and explained that the tax commission was appointed for the purpose of bringing about a more equal taxation, basing values upon a cash basis. He stated that the valuations in Crawford county had been raised about 20 per cent above the valuations placed by the township supervisors, while in some counties the valuations had been raised about 400 per cent, thus demonstrating the necessity of a more equal determination of values. In Grayling the court room, where the review was held, was filled. There was a lot of interest and curiosity on the part of some of the tax payers as to the valuations placed upon their property. The merchants felt that their personal values upon their stocks had been placed too high; some of them had been boosted hundreds of dollars. It is the general opinion that after all is settled it will be found that nearly everyone was advanced and that the ratio will remain about the same and the amount of taxes to be paid will be just about the same as usual, in proportion to the amounts of funds raised.

KING-MILLER.
Miss Beulah Miller, daughter of Mrs. George Miller of this city and Edward King were quietly wedded at St. Mary's parsonage Monday afternoon at five o'clock. Rev. F. J. J. Riess performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Karnes, the latter a sister of the bride.

After the ceremony relatives were invited to the home of the bride, where a sumptuous dinner was served. The home was nicely decorated in the bride's chosen colors for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. King are well known in Grayling and have many friends who wish them much happiness. The latter for some time past had been the able clerk at the Frank Dreese store. They left Monday night on a honeymoon trip to Detroit and different places in Ontario, and on their return will be at home to their friends in the residence at the corner of Cedar and McClellan streets.

We have on display a number of attractive articles in the most beautiful needle cut glass ware. Suitable for gifts.

Alex Poppler, blacksmith, Welch St., Reed City, Mich., says: "I was a physical wreck from rheumatic trouble. For four months I couldn't move without assistance. FOOLISH IDEAS SOME HAVE Old Fellow Righteously Indignant at Fastidiousness of the Guests of His Hotel.

Capt. Lindsey Polk, director of a number of hotels, said recently in New York:

"European hotels, even the best of them, are inferior to ours. While I was in Paris I saw an advertisement of a fashionable new hotel, and the boast the management made was that it was as good as the best American hotels. I was pleased with this tribute."

Captain Polk smiled. "Well," he resumed, "our hotels are high. No more hotelkeepers like the old fellow who complained about his summer visitors:

"You wouldn't believe the nonsense that is in them. They are always wanting a clean tablecloth and clean sheets to their beds. An table napkins, no less! I'll tell you what, there's sure people in this world that think they can go into a hotel and make a convalescence of it."

Some Country!

Finnegan, a railroad worker, though not he of "On again, off again" fame, returned to Ireland recently on a visit. On being questioned by his relatives concerning the wonders of America, he described his size as follows: "Haw, America is so big that if you try to drag England through the Shetland, you wouldn't have a mark in the dirt, and you could lose Ireland entirely in vain if you tried to find it."

Leaving his wife in the protection of the machine he dashed out into the middle of the road, holding high in the air an undersized umbrella that it might protect his new, neatly pressed spruce suit, while he shouted at a motorist whose headlight came dimly through the rain.

"Stop, I've got my wife!"

"So have I," interrupted the motorist who had gas, and his car sped on without letup.

Truth Hard to Down.

Truth is tough; it will not break, like a bubble, at a touch; nay, you may kick it about all day like a football, and it will be round and full at evening.

Love is a good deal like a stubborn mule. There's no telling what kind of stunt it will do next.

QUICK! YOUR HAIR NEEDS "DANDERINE"

Check ugly dandruff. Stop hair coming out and double its beauty

A little "Danderine" cools, cleanses and makes the feverish, itchy scalp soft and pliable; then this stimulating tonic penetrates to the fanned hair roots, revitalizing and invigorating every hair in the head, thus stopping the hair falling out, or getting thin, dry or falling.

After a few applications of "Danderine" you seldom find a fallen hair or a particle of dandruff, besides every hair shows new life, vigor, brightness, more color and thickness.

A few cents buys a bottle of delightful "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter.—Adv.

No Case for a Dime.

"What did you give that beggar?"

"A dollar."

"A dollar! I should think a dime would have been enough."

"A dime! The poor man said he was hungry and needed something to eat. The least I could do was to give him enough to buy a cup of coffee and a roll."

"Are you the person who wrote up the account of last night's big reception?"

"Just anything wrong with it?"

"That's what I want to find out. Look here, I notice in speaking of my daughter you use the sentence: 'She swept about the room with an inherited grace that arrested every one's attention.' Now, what was your purpose in writing that?"

"Why, it struck me as a first-class opportunity for a neat compliment to her esteemed parents; that's all."

"You are sure that you didn't mean to insinuate that her father laid the foundation of his fortune by selling brooms?"

"Certainly not."

"Because I did, you know."

"I didn't know it."

"Then that's all right. Good day."—Dallas News.

Each Had A Wife.

His flivver was out of gas. And it was out of gas on a country road seven miles from town, and the rain was falling in sheets.

Leaving his wife in the protection of the machine he dashed out into the middle of the road, holding high in the air an undersized umbrella that it might protect his new, neatly pressed spruce suit, while he shouted at a motorist whose headlight came dimly through the rain.

"Stop, I've got my wife!"

"So have I," interrupted the motorist who had gas, and his car sped on without letup.

Truth Hard to Down.

Love is a good deal like a stubborn mule. There's no telling what kind of stunt it will do next.

that came from the snowdrifts, that were scattered around the mountain slopes. Then green forests and far away a blue lake half disappearing in a blue haze. The trail took me first over a big snowfield. It was only a few feet wide and the field sloped down some thousand feet to one side, while on the other side it stretched upwards maybe a thousand feet. I crawled more, than walked over the trail and I was happy, when I was well over. Through hard windings along the steep mountain side the trail led down to the valley and at last I entered a beautiful forest, that was filled with the perfume from all the flowers, that formed the undergrowth, but also with innumerable flies and mosquitoes. It was a long walk through the forest—10 to 12 miles, and it is a feeble expression for my feelings, when I tell that I was happy, as late in the afternoon I reached the shore of a big lake and in distance saw a lot of buildings on a head of land stretching out in the lake. Going to the sun camp was the name of the place and its location was pretty. After a bath and a cool drink I went to the dining hall and had an excellent supper. As there is a steamer on the lake St. Mary lake—connecting this place with the automobile road at the East end of the lake, a lot of people lived there and the evenings in the big hall were very pleasant. Sitting round a big fireplace—even I did protest because of my bad English, I had to do it. Undoubtedly it was more fun for the audience than for me.

After some days stay at the camp I walked away in company with two young American boys—college boys at the age of 19-20. This time I had a pack horse for my baggage. We climbed continually upwards through the forest and at last we came out of it and into a landscape like a big park with meadows like flowerbeds and lonely stately trees. It is impossible to give an idea about the splendour of the flowers, their pretty forms, their beauty, the ground was like a Persian mat. The mountain, on the side of which we were, sloped down to a deep valley and on the other side of this enormous mountain range rose towards the sky. Wonderful peaks, big glaciers and little down-falling streams surrounded us on all sides. Near a creek, hastening down to the valley, we found an excellent place for luncheon and we enjoyed the good food and the ice cold water in surroundings, that were sublime. While we enjoyed our lunch our pack horse ran away, but it was so lucky, that a rider—cowboy passed by and caught it for us. The riders look very romantic with the broad brimmed grey hat the highly colored silk necktie and shirt and the big sheepskin chaps they ride like hell. I have seen them in the movies but didn't believe in their ability in riding, many photos are fakes—but now I saw, that it was right, for never have I seen such a daring gallop through boulders and rocks.

After lunch we started along a narrow trail on a mountain side with a dizzy abyss at our left, for the Peagan Pass and looked from there down in a valley with rivulets, lakes and forests. It was cold up in the height, but we got more than warmth enough crawling down to the bottom of the valley. What a change in the temperature. It was almost stiflingly hot in the valley and we had a long walk, until we reached a pretty hotel located at a blue lake and surrounded by mountains and forests. The hotel was the finest, I hitherto had seen, but the price for a room was also fine. I made a lot of acquaintances during my stay there and really I was glad to see, that the other guests were not better dressed than I, for my corduroy trousers and my brown shirt now looked very shabby. It was laughable to see the different dresses especially the ladies in pants, etc. I don't understand why the ugliest ladies always make a choice of the most uncomfortable dresses. I stayed for some days at the place and made excursions from there. Especially the trip to Iceberg lake was wonderful. A glacier sent out in a little green lake little icebergs—the northern sea on a miniature. Next to the glacier we saw the most wonderful flowerbeds.

Never have I seen in a mountain country such flowers as in Glacier Park and the nearer the ice and the snow the prettier the flowers. We left Many Glaciers Hotel walker through the forest—an easy and pretty walk, and arrived at an almost perpendicular wall upon which was a switch-back, that took us two three thousand feet up. The higher we went, the more beautiful the scenery. Near us was the big Grinnell Glacier with its crevices, from which waterfalls plunged down. Below us the valley with its lakes and forests and in the far distance the hotel, that we had left in the morning. Near an ice cold little creek we had our lunch, then upwards again, passed a big ice cave in a snowdrift and reached the summit of the pass.

From there we had an easy trail down to Granite Park camp—a chalet located on a plateau overlooking deep valleys and mountain peaks on all sides. It was a very plain chalet but we preferred it to the fine hotel—our shabby dresses matched better with the modest hostelry. The guests were not many and soon we were like old friends. Until now the air had been clear and transparent, but forest fires in the western part of the Park now sent up big clouds of smoke, so that a part of the landscape was hidden in a yellow haze. The view from the camp was grand and sometimes the light effects were astonishing. Part of the sky and the landscape was covered by a red smoke which became thorn, at sun-set, on the other side the sky was steel blue and the mountains with their glaciers in far distance had an ice cold blue color, that formed a wonderful contrast to the warm golden color in the other part of the landscape.

We stayed for some days in the camp, enjoyed life by climbing around in the mountains—mountain climbing was now a trifle for me, and at last we took again our baggage on our back and went down to the forest-covered valley. It was a long walk down. The trail went forth and back on the mountain side and it took many hours, before we reached the bottom. Most of the trees were of a size, we were unaccustomed to see and as the forest was a primeval forest, where nature alone was the master, the walk was very interesting. For the first time we saw one of the bigger mammals quite near. A big animal crossed the trail some yards in front of us. First we believed, it was a bear cub, but it was a porcupine about three feet long. It looked quite formidable with its long spines, but it was undoubtedly very frightened as it disappeared as soon as possible. Late in the afternoon we reached McDonald lake and a bath in the ice cold water was more than refreshing, it was almost life giving.

I had now finished my round trip in the mountains a walk more than 130 miles and most part of the way with my baggage on my back. I almost felt proud, that I had been able to do it. I rested for some days in the pretty hotel at the lake and went then back to Corvallis following the same route as when I went out.

After a short stay in Corvallis I went away again, this time with Yellowstone Park as goal. As company I had a young man—farmer, rider, cowboy—each of these titles will suit. He was an excellent rider and looked like a cowboy from the movies, when he was on horseback and had donned the usual riding dress of this section. He was an intelligent young man and very good company.

We left Corvallis one afternoon for Butte. We ought to have been there in the evening, but thanks to a creek in the track caused by cloud burst from Butte and the great funnels in the bottom which one saw a hole leading down to the underworld or at least to some place, where it was very hot. The water would be quiet for some time, but suddenly it began to boil fast and little and greater geysers jumped up in the air. We started again and passed a lot of the most different springs and pools and arrived at last to the Old Faithful Inn, where we had to stay. Standing on the porch of the camp office one had a splendid view over a wide valley with groups of trees here and there and bordered by low forest covered even on the slopes of the mountains and at the shore of a little river, which ran through the valley, one saw some columns of smoke in the air and sometimes one saw in the distance one of the greater geysers send forth a column of steam and water high in the air. Quite near the camp we had the Old Faithful.

An Agreeable Surprise.

"About three years ago when I was suffering from a severe cold on my lungs and coughed most of the night and day, I tried a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was surprised at the promptness with which it gave me relief," writes Mrs. James Brown, Clark Mills, N. Y. Many another has been surprised and pleased with the prompt relief afforded by this remedy. Adv.

Constipation. The beginning of almost every serious disorder is constipation. If you want to enjoy good health keep your bowels regular. This is best accomplished by proper diet and exercise, but sometimes a medicine is needed and when that is the case you will find Chamberlain's Tablets are excellent. They are mild and gentle in their action, easy and pleasant to take. Give them a trial. They only cost a quarter. Adv.

Brings the Knowledge of Their Organization and Experience in Their Successful Treatment of

THOUSANDS OF CASES.
The United Doctors is an organization of reputable licensed physicians. They are all specialists in the treatment of certain diseases. They treat without surgical operations, diseases of all internal organs, stomach, intestines, constipation, piles, liver, spleen, heart, nerves, skin, rheumatism, sciatica, goitre, tape-worm, leg ulcers and all long standing, deep seated diseases. Many years experience. The complete record of thousands of cases successfully treated prove that their methods are right. They were among the first to earn the name:

"BLOODLESS SURGEONS"
Each staff member has at his command the knowledge and resources of the organization. Many people suffer from diseases that can be alleviated just because they cannot afford to go to high priced Specialists and Hospitals at a long distance from their home. No community has a sufficient number suffering from these diseases to support special hospitals for their treatment and cure. The United Doctors have solved the problem. Their highly trained Specialists go to each community and will advise proper course of treatment for the sufferers and instruct them how to take care of themselves at home. No matter what you have been told or the experience you have had with other physicians, consult him on this visit. It costs nothing. If your case is incurable he will give you advice as may stay and relieve the disease. Married ladies must come with their husbands and minors with their parents or guardians.

Biliousness

WHEN you have a bilious attack your liver fails to perform its functions. You become constipated. The food you eat ferments in your stomach instead of digesting. This inflames the stomach and causes nausea, vomiting and a terrible headache. Take Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver, clean out your stomach and you will soon be as well as ever. There is nothing better.
